JUSTICE AND RIGHT

VOLUME FIFTY TWO

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN, JULY 24, 1930

OSCAR P. SCHUMANN, Editor and Proprietor

NUMBER 31

Says WILL ROGERS

BEVERLY HILLS.—Well, all I know is just what I read in the papers. With Mr. Coolidge writing for the papers why we got a lot of new reading to do now.

He had one in the other day that kinder jarred all of us, and made us wonder if he wasn't having a Ghost Writer. So some of his stuff it advised the working man to spend his money, and buy everything that he could possibly afford, and in that way help out the whole economic thing, so that it would put more money into circulation, and make more jobs for those that had none. Now that is absolutely going against all the laws we have been brought up to—we have always been taught to save, and put by every dollar that we could, and not buy anything unless we absolutely needed it, and to spend no money for things that we could do without. Now all at once we are advised by everybody to start spending, so it will help somebody else. Imagine telling a working man to spend, that if he don't put his money into circulation why he won't have a job very long. That is what Mr. Coolidge said. Now that sounds so unlike him. Here is a man that the whole basis of his popularity is based on his economy and thrift, and all at once he goes out to a situation, why he says "Spend." So it's hard to tell what to believe nowadays.

Speaking of Prosperity, which about all we are doing is speaking of it, why I read with great interest recently the celebrating of the ninety some birthday of our genial benefactor Mr. Rockefeller. Sr., and it brought back many happy thoughts of my meeting with him every winter when I would play my little "talk dates" at Daytona Beach, Florida, he would always come to the Auditorium and bring all the people from his winter household, servants and all. The three years I did that, he was right there and he would not miss a single "Gag." He was as keen and alert as anyone in the audience, and was always well versed on Topics, as on Oil Gravel. He knew as much about the disarrangement of the Conference as he did what the "Dutch Shell" were doing. I always had a few local jokes about him and would go down off the "Rostrom" and shake hands with him, and he would quietly ask me to come to his home on the following morning and have breakfast with him, at eight o'clock. Then after a fine breakfast, when he would give us all a dime each as he came down. In the morning, we would go nearby to the Golf Course, and he would play eight holes. It took a pretty tough day, that kept him away. The reason for the eight holes only was that the eighth hole was over by a back road where he could have his car meet him, and go direct home from that hole. I don't play the game. (Not even at three at night for money.) But he made lots of the holes in what you call Par. He was always straight down the course, not so terribly far, but ON IT. The old fellow looks like he is extremely happy and satisfied, and I think feels that he has been of some service to his country as well as to the business world. He has not only filled the Country tanks, but has filled many a diseased man with hope of a cure.

Just about a week ago the Prince of Wales made almost a prayer over the Radio that England might develop some one in their country comparable to Rockefeller in philanthropy.

That's about the biggest single praise that has come his way. When the future ruler of a great Kingdom asks for a similar man in their Country, you must have accomplished something.

The Lindberghs have always known they would call the baby Charles Augustus, but what has held them up all this time was whether to use the Jr on the end or not. So they finally decided to use it.

The pictures show him sleeping with his eyes shut and his mouth open, so he don't take after his father. He slept with his eyes open and his mouth shut.

A ignorant people laugh at spiritualists, but when they die they go mighty peaceful and happy. After all, about all there is to living is to go away satisfied. Maybe they have got "an ace in the hole" at that.

We got an epidemic of crazy women parachute jumpers—going just for the jump. Shooting your husband has got so it don't land you on the front page. So, they have traded their guns for parachutes and are trying to jump and land on it.

It's never a real aviator that makes an exhibition jump. They know they were made to save useful lives in an emergency and not to put on a show with. We are all against having any more laws, but one against women parachute jumpers we would go for.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS OPENING OF RIALTO

NEW RIALTO THRILLS PATRONS BY ITS MAGNIFICENCE
Throngs Attend Opening Program Tuesday Night

The big thing in Grayling this week was the re-opening of the New Rialto theatre. Out of the ashes of the past there has grown up one of the finest picture theatres that is to be found anywhere—the very last word in cinema equipment.

People of Grayling and surrounding towns had looked forward to the opening of the theatre for several weeks and on Tuesday night when the big event took place the theatre was filled to capacity.

People who had not been privileged to peek into the place while the finishing touches were being put on, were quite amazed at the magnitude of the place and at the completeness and grandeur of its equipment and its furnishings.

The floor of the lobby is covered with marvelous mats inlaid by a border of cream tinted tile. The foyer floor is covered with a beautiful, soft carpet that extends down the four aisles. As one sinks down into the comfortable, upholstered seats he could easily imagine that he was in a playhouse of a metropolitan city.

Upon being seated one is first attracted by the stage with its marvelous draperies and curtains, and, as the curtain parts, the large screen. As was explained in this paper in our last week's edition, the "Magna-screen" is a large screen which enables one to see pictures in a new and unusual manner.

At intervals in the side walls there are panels inlaid with heavy cork, attractive in their appearance and preventing sound vibrations. The opening was marked by a special program.

R. J. Elliott of Detroit who is assisting Mr. Olson in opening the new theatre, stepped from between the curtains and extended a hearty welcome to the patrons and wanted them to know that this was their theatre and wanted them to be free to offer suggestions for making things better.

Mayor Chris W. Olson, on behalf of the people of Grayling, complimented Mr. Olson on the beauty and attractiveness of his new theatre and assured him that the home people appreciated his efforts and that they wished him success.

Co-incident with the day, the contests for the choice of queens to represent the towns in the Grayling district—Roscommon, Lewiston, Frederic and Grayling—were concluded that day, with girls from each of the four towns here in Grayling to be judged by experienced and impartial judges. For several weeks past the people had been casting their votes for the popular girl and there was a lot of interest and they wanted to know the winners. Therefore this was a most opportune time to announce the winners and to introduce them to the public from before the spotlight.

Mr. Schumann, chairman of the district contest, announced the winners and introduced the young ladies to the audience. The winners were: Miss Edith Bidvia who will represent her home town as "Miss Grayling"; Miss Lovina Wright was selected as "Miss Lewiston"; Rosalie Stammeler as "Miss Frederic"; and Miss Ethel Beckford as "Miss Roscommon." Each of these young ladies will represent her home town at the Water Carnival at Bay City next week.

T. W. Hanson, president of the Board of Trade, also extended the well wishes of the members of that organization and of the people of Grayling. He told something of the early history of the town and of the days following the timber and now sees Grayling well on the way toward greater opportunities as a center for recreation. He contended that with the opening of the New Rialto theatre it meant added prestige and added stimulus to progress of our city.

Mr. Hanson, presented Mr. Olson, on behalf of the Exhibitors: Herald World, publication in the interest of motion picture exhibitors, a bronze plaque, upon which was engrossed the words:

1—Scene at the formal opening of the $2,000,000 Mount Carmel highway tunnel in Zion National Park, Utah, with guests of fourteen states participating. 2—Burial of Maj. Gen. W. C. Neville, commandant of the marine corps, in Arlington National cemetery. 3—Laying the famous mosaic of flowers on the principal street of Genzano, Italy, for the Corpus Christi festival.

A MARK OF HONOR HAS BEEN AWARDED THIS THEATRE FOR THE HIGH QUALITY OF ITS PRODUCTION OF SOUND PICTURES by EXHIBITORS HERALD WORLD

Mr. Olson had been called to the stage for the presentation and when he appeared from between the crimson curtains he was given a loud applause. He accepted the plaque with a thank you and a bow to the audience and modestly retired.

As a part of the regular program of the evening, selections were presented by the Rialto "Phantom Organ." Laurel & Hardy furnished the comedy feature, appearing in "Hog Wild." A cartoon, "Maybe Yes, Maybe No." The feature of the evening was "Our Blushing Brides," featuring Joan Crawford. It was a very pleasing program and the crowd comfortably seated in a room that was thoroughly ventilated and of even comfortable temperature, and amidst delightful surroundings there could be no more to wish for.

The first performance filled every seat and the second saw most of the seats occupied.

On each end of the platform were huge baskets of flowers and ferns, and in the foyer were flowers and ferns. A horseshoe and pedestal of roses bore a message "Heaps of Luck" and was signed Grayling Board of Trade. Another large floral horseshoe—nearly six feet tall—was presented by the Pochelon family of Detroit and Grayling and carried a message of "Success to the Rialto Theatre." There was also a basket of flowers from the same family. Other beautiful baskets crowded the foyer room and the stage, bearing messages of good wishes from the following: Carl W. Peterson, Village Council; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Joseph; Mate and Bill Powell, and the Landsberg family. Another very beautiful basket of flowers contained no card and nobody seemed to know who the donor was.

Waldemar Olson, who is in the employ of the National Theatre Supply Co. of Detroit, was home to assist George to get ready for the opening. Also Mr. R. J. Elliott assisted in the work of opening the theatre. Mr. Earl Annette of Detroit, a talking equipment engineer, assisted in the projecting booth.

The event of the opening of the new theatre is now a matter of history. There is only the best of feeling on the part of the public toward the new institution and we feel confident that this sentiment is to continue. Mr. Olson is giving theatre goers just as good shows as any theatre one might attend in Detroit or other metropolises. We don't have to go out of town for this class of entertainment. It is brought right to us. To continue to succeed it must receive the patronage of the public and it is up to each of us to help by letting outside friends know that they will find good shows here each night. This theatre needs assistance from out of town as well as the loyal support of those who reside here.

MISS BIDVIA CHOSEN 'MISS GRAYLING'

JUDGES PICK WINNERS FOR FREDERIC, ROSCOMMON AND LEWISTON

After several weeks of voting to decide who would be the choice by the people of the young ladies to represent their respective towns—Frederic, Roscommon, Lewiston and Grayling, the votes were counted Monday morning and the five receiving the highest number of votes then were to be eligible to come before judges for final selection of one from each town. As a result each town was represented by some very attractive young ladies at the final contest held in Grayling Tuesday.

Grayling selected for its five girls the following:

Emily Engel 123,060
Jane Keyport 60,590
Marie Brown 41,740
Helen Lietz 29,650
Edith Bidvia 18,280

The judges engaged for the occasion were selected by the Water Carnival committee of Bay City and were physicians and surgeons of the medical regiment in Camp Grayling, as follows: Maj. James Humphrey, Monroe; Capt. Albert Hallard, Benton Harbor; Capt. M. R. Slattery, Bay City; Lt. E. C. Smith, Bay City and Col. Hanna, Detroit.

A special committee of ladies of the Board of Trade Auxiliary with Mrs. Clippert as chairman had arranged headquarters at Michelson Memorial church parlors. She was assisted by Mrs. Joseph and Mrs. Schumann, and the contestants found such conveniences as needed, awaiting them.

It was a severe task for the judges and a responsibility that they didn't take lightly.

It took them fully two hours to make their decisions. Among the points upon which they based their decisions were: Face; form; posture; personality and education. After the first appearances of the several groups they were recalled several times, in groups and singly. The contestants were identified by numbers only. There were no formal introductions between the judges and contestants so that there could be no outside influences to cause embarrassment—all were strangers. The contest, we believe, was conducted as competently as any set of judges could have handled it.

The following girls were declared winners:

Edith Bidvia—"Miss Grayling."
Jane Keyport, alternate.
Rosalie Stammeler—"Miss Frederic."
Doris Corsaut, alternate.
Lovina Wright—"Miss Lewiston."
Joan Kennedy, alternate.
Ethel Beckford—"Miss Roscommon."
Hilda Diffell, alternate.

Immediately after the judging the girls were photographed in their bath.

M. N. G. FINISHES TRAINING SAT.

Camp Grayling, July 24.—Michigan National Guard troops were returning today from two days in the field when they attacked a defensive problem prepared by Lt. Col. Franklin T. Burt and other Army instructors.

Leaving camp early Wednesday the guard organized a zone between Bear Swamp and the north end of Higgins Lake, within the Hanson reservation. Then they set up an outpost line of resistance, battle position and later took part in a counter-attack, and withdrawal to reserve battle position.

With the guardsmen went most of their equipment. The infantry took its machine guns, howitzers, one-pounders and trench mortars; the 119th Field Artillery its 75MM. guns and the 107th Medical Regiment its ambulances and litters. Aviators made reconnaissance and photographs of the "enemy" areas.

Sleeping Wednesday night on the ground and eating from field kitchens, the "war" problem gave the guardsmen a real taste of wartime. It was the climax of two weeks' training.

Camp will officially close Saturday with the departure of all units except the 119th Field Artillery, which arrived later than the other regiments. The field artillery will leave the evening of Thursday, July 31. It will conduct firing operations next week.

Brig-Gen. Paul B. Clemens, in command of Camp McCoy, at Sparta, Wis., was a guest of the camp for several days this week. General Clemens declared the best training is being carried on by guard camps, except for certain Army groups.

"Michigan National Guard is a cohesive organization," said General Clemens. "The site of Camp Grayling is one of the finest I have seen. The guardsmen are well trained, the leadership is excellent and the moral tone of the camp is well above the average."

Rube Babbitt, veteran game warden, was given a plane ride by Lt. W. E. Nicol, the pair flying for many miles above the AuSable River which Babbitt traversed for many years by boat. He told Lt. Nicol the ride was a great thrill.

The aviators tackled their hardest schedule of field training, firing machine guns at targets towed by planes, firing at ground silhouettes, photographing "enemy" areas and putting in flying time. Maj. Floyd Evans, assistant division air officer, relinquishing the duties of squadron commander to Capt. Fred Anderson.

A larger organization this year made the training of the 182nd Field Artillery of Detroit even more collective than in previous seasons. Col. William Moore, Army instructor assigned to the regiment, said before leaving for home, Col. George V. N. Lotthrop, of Detroit, commanded the regiment in the absence of Col. Heinrich A. Pickett, well-known to Grayling residents, who could not leave his duties as Collector of the Customs at Detroit.

This year's camp was the most successful in its history. Maj. Gen. Guy M. Wilson, camp commander, declared. Other Guard and Army leaders were of the same opinion.

Mrs. Clippert and her committee worked hard to have the church parlor conveniently arranged and tastefully decorated for judging last Tuesday; planned entertainment and the banquet, and in general gave the young ladies a most pleasant afternoon.

That meant a lot of effort and work and deserves the appreciation of the public as well as the executive committee. Those assisting Mrs. Clippert were: Mrs. Reagan, Mrs. Jarnin, Mrs. Joseph, Mrs. Schumann, Mrs. Keyport and Mrs. Geo. Olson were in charge of the entertainment; Mrs. Bauman and Mrs. Oscar Hanson the banquet, and Mrs. Eabern Hanson looked after the autos for the ride to the lake.

Grayling will be represented in the carnival parade at Bay City with a float, and it will be a good one. The affair begins Wednesday for the "Queens" and on Tuesday for the public program and lasts to Saturday night.

ROBT. REAGAN DIES WHILE ON DUTY

WAS ONE OF GRAYLING'S MOST ESTIMABLE CITIZENS

Robert M. Reagan, conductor for the M. C. R. R. company was found dead in his wayward Tuesday morning at Mackinaw City. Mr. Reagan left Grayling on a run north Monday evening and when the train was due in Mackinaw City at 1:55 a. m. and he did not appear on the scene, brakeman Holger Schmidt went into the waycar and thinking he had fallen asleep, tried to arouse him and found that he had passed away. Mr. Reagan's death came as a severe shock to his family and hosts of friends. A physician who was called at Mackinaw said death was due to valvular disturbance of the heart.

The remains were brought to his home here Tuesday night accompanied by his brother-in-law Joseph Malenfant of Cheboygan and Harry L. Johnston of Bay City. The funeral will be held tomorrow (Friday) morning at St. Mary's church at nine o'clock. The pallbearers will include Fred R. Welsh, Holger F. Peterson, Louis Heribson, Lorane Sparks, Spencer Melstrop and E. A. Mason, of Detroit, while members of the local council Knights of Columbus will be honorary pallbearers.

Mr. Reagan was born in Caro in 1881 and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Reagan, both deceased. The family later resided in Bay City where he attended the public and parochial schools and at about the age of 18 years started working for the Michigan Central and had been in their employ continuously since. In about the year 1902 he came to Grayling with his parents and on July 19, 1911 was united in marriage to Eva E. Robinson. To this union one daughter, Elaine, was born, who, with the widow, survives.

Some time ago Mr. Reagan received an injury in a railroad accident of a broken hip and since then his health had been none too vigorous. However in his younger days baseball and football circles were not complete without "Babe" and he could always be depended upon to give a good account of himself.

Mr. Reagan was one of the best liked employees on the Michigan Central. He had a reputation of honesty and faithfulness in all he attempted to do and his word was as good as his bond. Robert Reagan was a splendid, clear citizen and his death is a distinct loss to Grayling.

He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and of the local Knights of Columbus, having held the office of grand knight in the latter organization for several years. He was also a member of the Grayling Board of Trade and the Grayling Golf club.

Surviving the deceased besides his widow and daughter Elaine, are three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Anna M. Insley, Mrs. C. W. Skinner, Detroit; Mrs. Guy Peterson, Newton Reagan, Bay City; Francis Reagan, West Branch. Those who have arrived in the city to be in attendance at the funeral are Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Johnston, Bay City; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Malenfant, Miss Beatrice Malenfant, Cheboygan; Dr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Insley, Miss Margaret and Marius Insley, Mrs. C. W. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mason and sons Edward and Frederick, Detroit.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the members of the family in their sad bereavement.

KEEP THE KIDS OUT

Doing a "stunt" craze has at last invaded the ranks of the younger generation. It began when a kid over in Wisconsin started roosting in a tree and now it is spreading over the nation. Bicycle endurance tests have also been added to the roosting mania. Some newspapers are encouraging the boys and girls to enter these contests, which is bad for the kids, physicians assert.

Although he considered them as crazy affairs the average citizen had no particular objection to flagpole sitting, dance marathons or endurance flights as long as they did not interfere with his pursuit of life, liberty and happiness. It was enough punishment to find his favorite newspaper exploiting such asinine attempts for notoriety as being matters of news value, without being called upon to lend encouragement by his presence. Therefore he registered no objections.

But he does have an interest in the children. He will regard any attempt at exploiting them by newspapers or so-called managers as dangerous to the growing generation. He will demand that stunts which threaten the life and health of innocent participants be discouraged. His protests will be heard—and heeded.

WHEN FORESTS BURN

Nature has provided many things for your comfort and pleasure, nothing of which is finer than the wooded hills and valleys that greet the visitor sojourning in vacation land. But even nature is not proof against carelessness.

This is the season of the year when danger from forest fires is greatest. Beautiful forest areas are not only a valuable commercial asset, but have an untold value in attracting visitors. Where lakes and trees abound we find people seeking rest and solitude. When timber fires denude the land the loss is universal. It has been truthfully said that "Everybody loses when timber burns."

During the summer months thousands of people visit the timbered sections of Michigan. Thousands of acres have been set aside by the state to provide beauty spots for recreation purposes. As a visitor you are welcome. All your host expects is carefulness on your part. Be careful of fire for the tiniest blaze may grow to light an inferno on a hundred burning hills.

See that your camp fire is extinguished before you depart—be sure to break your match before throwing it away—don't cast lighted cigars or cigarettes into the dried grasses of the roadside—it is because of these things that many fires are started. Michigan pleads with you to help preserve her beauty for coming generations.

THE NAVAL TREATY

A study of the London Naval Treaty from an economic viewpoint brings to light some material advantages and also some savings in cost through the battle ship holiday.

The Treaty limits the naval overhead, including maintenance and construction costs, up to the year 1936. If we could be assured that both Great Britain and Japan would be content to maintain their present fleets without any additional construction up to 1936 then our naval

FREE CHEST CLINIC
HERE AUG. 6-7-8

A tri-county free chest clinic, for Crawford, Otsego, and Roscommon counties, will be held on August 6, 7, and 8 in the Court House, Grayling, according to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. Examinations of the chest will be given on these days without charge to residents of the three counties who suspect the presence of tuberculosis in themselves.

The tri-county clinic plan, under which a clinic will be held in one center for three days, with two doctors in attendance, represents an attempt on the part of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association to give a higher grade of clinic service. Formerly brief clinics were held in one center in each county, and these clinics were found to be unsatisfactory in several respects. If the plan works out successfully here, the same method probably will be used in other portions of the state.

Since Crawford county is supporting the clinic with a $300.00 appropriation, the first day of the clinic will be devoted entirely to the county, and one-half the time of the remaining two days will also be reserved for county residents. The equivalent of one doctor's services for four days will therefore be given the county. One day's service will be reserved for each of the other two counties, Otsego's day being on August 7 and Roscommon's on August 8. Christmas seal funds will finance the service given the latter two counties.

Examining physicians for the Michigan Tuberculosis Association state that cough and expectoration, a continued tired feeling, hoarseness, fever, rapid pulse, chills, loss of strength, weight, and of appetite are danger signals of tuberculosis and should lead to an examination for the disease.

JOHN PHILIP SOUSA WILL CONDUCT H. S. ORCHESTRA AND BAND AT INTERLOCHEN SUNDAY

Lieut. Commander John Philip Sousa, the March King of the world, will be guest conductor at both the 3:00 o'clock afternoon performance and the 7:00 o'clock evening performance at the Interlochen Bowl. This is Central Standard Time. Lieut. Commander Sousa is making a special trip from New York City to be the conductor of these splendid young musicians. The band numbers about 150 players and the Orchestra 250.

In the afternoon there will be a combined band concert, using the bands from Elk Rapids, Frankfort, Beulah-Benzonia, Elberta, Honor, Traverse City, Manistee, Ludington, Kingsley, Reed City, Cadillac, and Buckley. There will be about five hundred performers in this massed band program. They will play several of the famous Sousa marches, including "Stars and Stripes" and "Semper Paratus." This will be a gala performance, taking the last part of the program. One should come early to be sure of getting seats.

The speech of Dictator Joseph Stalin before the recent Communist Congress at Moscow filled thirty-seven pages of fine print. If the Russian peasants could eat words fewer of them would starve to death.

GRAYLING LADY PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY

Mrs. Ida M. Cliff passed away suddenly at nine o'clock Saturday evening at Mercy Hospital. The lady's death was a distinct shock to relatives and close friends, for she seemed apparently in good health. Her demise was quite accidental.

Together with a party of friends, Mrs. Cliff and her son Harold went to the airport Saturday evening for an airplane ride. It had long been the desire of Mrs. Cliff to take a ride in the air and it was perhaps one of the happiest moments of her life when she and her son took off from the ground in one of the cabin planes. They went up to a distance of perhaps two thousand feet when Mrs. Cliff seemed to be gasping for breath. Lieutenant Nichols, the pilot of the plane, landed just as soon as possible and when Mrs. Cliff alighted from the plane, she was not able to regain her breath. She was rushed to Mercy Hospital where efforts were made to revive her but she died soon after her arrival there. The cause of death was given as acute dilatation of the arteries of the heart.

Mrs. Cliff had resided in Grayling since a year ago last May, coming here with her son Harold, who is employed by the State Highway Department as Superintendent of the Maintenance division. She was sixty-nine years of age. The family formerly lived in Ionia, Michigan, where Mr. Cliff passed away about nine years ago. During the time she had lived in our community, Mrs. Cliff had made many friends who are grieved to learn of her demise. The flowers were many and beautiful and expressed the high esteem in which the family is held.

The deceased is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Wilbert Somerville of Boyne City; Mrs. Louis Phillips of DeWitt; Mrs. Wm. Harves of Rushville, Indiana; Mrs. Edward Waldron of Ionia; Mrs. Earl Van Zant of Charlevoix and Mrs. Isaac Buitensloot of Muskegon, and one son, Harold, of this city. Mrs. Somerville, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Waldron and Mrs. Van Zant arrived Sunday owing to their mother's death.

A short service was conducted at the family home Tuesday morning by Rev. West of Gaylord, after which the remains were taken to Ionia, Michigan, for burial. The funeral was held on Wednesday and interment was in Highland Park cemetery beside the body of her late husband.

The stage is set for the second annual Eastern Michigan Water Carnival. Final arrangements are being perfected for the gala watersports show at Bay City July 31, Aug. 1 and 2.

Glittering among the array of talent assembled to please the hundred thousand visitors expected will be many whose names are prominent the country over, and many others well known in their own section.

Events brand new, events which are at least novel, and of the commonplace, events such a number as to lift them out of the ordinary will grace the Carnival bill of fare. Every minute of the three days of jollification will be packed full of interesting happenings.

There will be over 70 girls present for the queen contest Thursday night, July 31. These come from the far-flung north and south reaches of Eastern Michigan, and one of them will be crowned Carnival queen, given many gifts, honored, and sent to Florida next winter as a reward for her beauty and charm.

There will be about 200 boats assembled for the various races of the outboard and motorboat regattas, sanctioned by the American Power Boat association. These contests will run Friday and Saturday, August 1 and 2.

The swimming will attract a record number of entries, representing many of the star teams of the state, high school teams, camps and other recreational divisions.

Johnny Weismuller and Helen Meany, swimmers extraordinary, will come to the Carnival to exhibit the skill that has won them Olympic titles in days gone by.

Exhibitions are scheduled for Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday afternoon. The swimming champion-ship of the state, under the auspices of the N. A. A. F., will come off Friday afternoon and evening.

There will be a gala float parade, miles long, through the streets of Bay City Thursday, July 31, in the afternoon to open the Carnival.

Many of the towns participating in the Carnival besides Bay City will be represented in the parade by floats. On these out-of-town floats will be carried the girls of the towns who will compete in the queen contest.

While final preparations are being perfected for the Carnival itself, a score of communities are choosing queens this week. Monday, July 21, saw the selection of girls in Cheboygan district, and on Tuesday they were chosen in Grayling and Pinconning districts. Wednesday saw choices made in Alpena, Flint, Saginaw, Port Huron, Lansing, Adrian, Hillsdale, Lansing and Owosso.

On Thursday come the contests in East Tawas and Midland districts, and Friday at Bay City.

The last contest of the lot is scheduled for Monday, July 28, at Clare, where five towns will be represented.

NAVY TESTS DIVING BELL

Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit. Tests of a submarine diving bell at the New London, Conn., submarine base, will be undertaken in August in order to further determine the practicability of this method of rescuing men from sunken submarines. The tests will be conducted at a depth of 200 feet and should the bell prove successful at this depth, it is planned to construct a stronger bell capable of withstanding pressures at 400 feet, the maximum depth at which subs are designed to operate. Tests are also being conducted with the submarine "Lung" to study its operation at great depths.

FREE OF STOMACH TROUBLE THANKS TO NEW KONJOLA

Attended At Quick And Complete
Relief New And Different
Medicine Gave Him

MR. D. W. GOUGH

"Before I tried Konjola, my stomach was in such poor shape that food did me no good," said Mr. D. W. Gough, 354 Ferry Avenue, Pontiac, Michigan. "It did not digest properly, and I had pains in the pit of my stomach at all times. Terrible headaches made it almost impossible for me to do my work. I tried different medicines, but could not get the slightest relief."

"I heard and heard a great deal about this new medicine, Konjola, and thought I would give it a trial. The first bottle did me no more good than any other medicine tried. Four bottles relieved every pain in my stomach and the headaches are a thing of the past. I am going on with this wonderful medicine, knowing that new and glorious health will be my reward."

That's the kind of medicine Konjola is—one that keeps the faith; that brings results; that makes good. From six to eight bottles are recommended as a complete treatment.

Konjola is sold in Grayling, Mich., at the Mac & Gidley Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

WOULD RULE MOTOR BOATS. Following a ruling from the attorney general that the Department of Conservation has no authority to regulate in any way the operation of motor boats on inland lakes, the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has taken action on complaints of county residents by adopting an ordinance placing severe restrictions on the operation of motor boats on the inland lakes of that county. The signature of Governor Fred W. Green will be necessary to make the ordinance effective.

The Department is constantly receiving complaints from property owners along these lakes, but according to the ruling only the County boards of supervisors because of the absence of state legislation, have authority to make regulations.

Taboo Still Live
Hard Kurdish Fighters
Sarnoff Sees Ahead
No Beta Against Jones

Civilized men laugh at "taboo" that keep a woman in the South seas from touching a canoe, make it a crime to touch a man with your hands after you have touched a horse, and forbid the eating of certain animals, etc.

But the taboo is not dead, even in civilization. Horror seized the British house of commons when a Laborite member, Beckett, laid hands on the heavy unce that lies on the table in front of the speaker and ran toward the door with it.

The unce symbolizes the power of the house of commons. Beckett was suspended, 324 to 4.

Kurds from Persia, convinced that Kemal Pasha, Turkish dictator, flouts the will of Mohammed, undertake to correct him. Fifteen thousand of them, pouring in from Persia, made their headquarters on Mount Ararat, burning, robbing and stealing, as proof of their fondness for Allah and the prophet.

Kemal killed about 15,000, nearly all of them. But the Kurds, desperately courageous as is usual with Mohammedans, say he will have to kill all of them to make them leave.

Their treatment of one Turkish aviator whom they shot down, immediately gouging out his eyes, proves their earnestness.

Kemal's bombing planes are searching the Mount Ararat crevices where Kurds hide. A change from the day when the ark landed peacefully!

Armenians are doing what they can to help the Kurds kill the Turks. In the light of history you can hardly blame them, but they may regret it. Kemal promises to wipe out their villages.

David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, like all successful men, has imagination as well as executive capacity. He says that television, providing "a theater for every home, although the stage may be only a cabinet, and a curtain the screen, is, I believe, the distinct promise of the new era of electrical entertainment."

Mr. Sarnoff sees in the latest gift of science to the human race the promise of "a new culture." Ten million homes in the United States now "draw nightly upon the programs of the air for the family entertainment."

Mr. Sarnoff, young and remarkably able, believes that this generation will see the greatest actors, orators, clergymen and singers moving and hear their voices in their homes. That is modern magic.

Bobby Jones taught an anti-gambling lesson to Lloyds, the great British insurance company. At the beginning of this golf season, Lloyds, which takes all kinds of wagers, bet 50 to 1 that Bobby Jones would not win the four great golf championships in succession. Now he has won three of them, and those that bet against him, seeking to insure themselves against loss, request Lloyds to bet that Jones will not win his fourth match.

Lloyds says: "No. It will cost you one thousand pounds to get a thousand pounds insurance against Jones' victory," which means that the victory is considered certain.

New York, that recently became the money center of the world, now, to its disgust, seems destined to be the crime center of the United States.

Racketeers, gunmen and other experts, driven out of Chicago by police energy, are alleged to be gathering in the bigger, richer city. Robberies of various kinds, from banks to delicatessen stores; a bomb explosion in the Fifth avenue district, business and trade union rackets of all kinds testify to the energy with which the alleged Chicago invaders do their work.

Police say their difficulties are increased by the unwillingness of citizens to tell what they know. Business men submit to racketeering to avoid bombing.

Hallstones six inches in diameter fell recently in Bulgaria, killing five, including two children on their way to school. Boats are missing in the Black sea.

Herr Holtscher, German author, has seen us and reports to his countrymen that Colonel Lindbergh and Will Rogers are the two most typical Americans of today.

He says: "The savings bank book constitutes the crowning point of an American's life work." And our greatest amusement, he finds, is evading the prohibition law.

Some American will go to Germany and say that a large "stein" of beer is the German's highest ambition, and then the foolish account will be even. (© 1930, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Every college professor and politician who talks about the glories of internationalism has some additional scheme to suggest whereby American interests shall be sacrificed to foreign interests. The American people have given till it hurts, but they are now told that they must give till they go broke.

SIX-CYLINDER SMOOTHNESS AT LOW COST

MONEY AND FOOD

The present business situation is marked by two things.

One is a surplus of money, the other a surplus of food.

By money we do not mean the money which every citizen or may not have. We refer to the accumulated deposits in the great banking houses of the large cities. Money for gambling in stocks in Wall Street has been at the lowest interest rate in years and there has been plenty of it available. However many people seem to have gotten over the stock market craze and comparatively few are taking many chances on stocks.

The surplus of everything grown upon the land has been the serious aspect of the agricultural situation. That surplus has driven down prices, stood in the way of returning land values and it has had its serious effect upon every form of commercial activity.

Now if we can find a way to get that surplus money out at the task of buying surplus food, we shall make progress.

Should such an accident occur the victim should be at once rushed to Mercy Hospital where Mr. Sheppard of the Whip-Poor-Will club has provided a serum for use in such emergency. Watch for these snakes and when you find one, kill it. That's the only way of cleaning them out.

EVERY community takes pride in keeping abreast with the times in the march of progress, and much has been accomplished in Grayling in recent years of which its citizens may be justly proud.

THERE has been nothing, though, that has been followed throughout with so much interest and satisfaction as the erection and completion of the New Rialto Theatre.

OUR wholehearted congratulations are herewith extended to the management who has made this new theatre possible for Grayling, and our best wishes for their success.
